

S · L · S

THE SOCIETY OF
LEGAL SCHOLARS

JUDGE THOMAS S. WOODS (RET.)

ASSOCIATE MEMBER
OVERSEAS

JOINED 2021

Editorial Board Member
Commonwealth Judicial Journal
2012 - present; Editor-in-Chief, 2019-2023

"The value of SLS membership to legal academics teaching and conducting legal research is obvious. The value of such membership to a retired member of the judiciary is, perhaps, less obvious. However, many retired members of the judiciary continue (like me) to engage actively with the law in some ways and SLS membership enhances the currency of the legal knowledge of such individuals at a relatively modest cost."

WHY DID YOU JOIN THE SLS?

Despite my retirement from the judiciary, I continue as an active follower of developments in the law and as a periodic contributor of scholarly articles to the legal academic literature. My membership in the SLS has furnished me with helpful notifications of conferences and other events and a subscription to the excellent Legal Studies journal and SLS Newsletter. All of this enables me, I believe, to be a better informed editor of a legal journal and participant in the activities of a prominent Canadian legal research funding entity.

BENEFITS

Membership in the SLS has proven to be an important part of my personal strategy for remaining current in my knowledge of developing trends in the law. I will repeat that all of this enables me, I believe, to be a better informed editor of a legal journal and participant in the activities of a prominent Canadian legal research funding entity.

HOW TO JOIN

Discover the benefits of membership here:
www.legalscholars.ac.uk/membership-benefits/

Join the Society here:
<https://www.societyoflegalscholars.ac.uk/join/index.cfm>

Contact admin@legalscholars.ac.uk with any questions.